

Kilimanjaro Trek - 7 Day Itinerary

Kilimanjaro - Day 1:	KILIMANJARO AIRPORT - ARUSHA	(D)
----------------------	------------------------------	-----

Upon arrival into Kilimanjaro airport we are met and transferred to our accommodation in Arusha. Our Head Guide for the climb will be on board and will go through a pre climb overview and equipment checklist during our journey to the Lodge. Once checked into our accommodation a light dinner will be provided at the Lodge.

Accommodation: Ahadi Lodge, Arusha

Kilimanjaro - Day 2:	REST DAY	(B, D)
----------------------	----------	--------

Today is set aside for some rest following the long flight to Africa. Some time should be spent checking and packing your gear for the climb that commences tomorrow. There will be time to explore the town of Arusha and there are a number of half day sightseeing tours of the area that can be arranged for those that wish to get out and about. Alternatively, the Lodge is a great place to have a swim, read a book and generally kick back in readiness for the trek. Late in the afternoon we will have our final briefing prior to commencing the climb the following morning.

Accommodation: Ahadi Lodge, Arusha

Kilimanjaro - Day 3:	COMMENCE TREKKING	(B,L,D)
----------------------	-------------------	---------

After breakfast we will be met by our Head Guide and transferred to the National Park gate (1820m) where we will meet the porters that will be assisting our group throughout the climb. After completing the necessary registration formalities at Machame Gate, it is relatively easy walking for the first hour before the track gets steeper. The track on this first day can be quite muddy and slippery and the lush forest we will walk through is similar to that of Kokoda. It is not unusual to experience rain during the day. Lunch will be provided on the way before arriving at our overnight location - Machame Camp (3020m).

[4-5 hours walking] Overnight on the mountain (in tents)

Kilimanjaro - Day 4:	TREKKING	(B,L,D)
----------------------	----------	---------

Today our walk becomes steeper and the secret will be to walk slowly in order to assist with your acclimatization. The track will become one of rock and dust as we leave the forest behind us. There will be opportunity to explore the volcanic rock formations of Shira Plateau along the way. We walk to the summit of Shira Cathedral, a huge buttress of rock flanked by steep pinnacles, before reaching our overnight location at Shira Cave Camp. (3840m). This campsite has some stunning views on Kilimanjaro, close to the glaciated dome of Kibo and the jagged rim of Shira Plateau. The views from here of Mt. Meru floating on the clouds are simply unforgettable.

[4-5 hours walking] Overnight on the mountain (in tents)

----------------------	----------	---------

During a morning of gentle ascent and panoramic views, we leave the moorland plateau behind to walk on lava ridges beneath the glaciers of the Western Breach. The steady climb to the Lava Tower is perfect for acclimatization. Around lunch time we reach our highest point for the day at the Lava Tower junction (4550m). From here we descend steeply to the bottom of the Great Barranco Valley (3900m) sheltered by towering cliffs and with extensive views of the plains far below. This camp has views down to Moshi town and the impressive Barranco Wall as a back drop - a great place to contemplate just how we will get up and over the wall the next day.

[5-6 hours walking] Overnight at Barranco Camp (3950m) (in tents)

Kilimanjaro - Day 6:	TREKKING	(B,L,D)
-----------------------------	-----------------	----------------

After crossing the small stream that runs alongside our campsite we start our steep climb up the sheer face of Barranco Wall. The views are breathtaking and the climb while not technical is quite exhilarating. Once at the top we follow the route that leads us to an undulating trail on the south-eastern flank of Kibo. From here you will experience the superb vistas of the Southern Ice fields. Lunch is usually taken at Karanga, the last water point which lies in a steep valley. After lunch, the terrain changes to scree and we climb steeply to reach the Karanga Valley campsite (4100m) by mid afternoon. [4-5 hours walking] Overnight on the mountain in tents

We continue our journey toward our final overnight camp before summit day. A steady pace today will ensure you conserve energy for the final assault on Mt Kilimanjaro. The route is short and steep and the surrounding landscape is barren being made up of boulders and shattered rock. You may experience shortness of breath during our climb today and it is important to walk slowly to conserve as much energy as possible. Arriving early afternoon, the remainder of the day is spent resting in preparation for the final ascent before dinner and a very early night. There are often spectacular views to the plains far below from Barafu campsite (4500m). [3-4 hours walking] Overnight on the mountain (in tents)

Kilimanjaro - Day 8:	TREKKING - SUMMIT DAY	(B,L,D)
-----------------------------	------------------------------	----------------

We will start our ascent by torchlight at about 12 midnight so that we reach the crater rim to watch a spectacular sunrise. The night climb over steep, loose volcanic scree has some well-graded zig zags and a slow but steady pace will take us to Stella Point (5739m), in about six hours. We will rest for a short time to enjoy the sunrise over Mawenzi. Those who are still feeling strong can make the 2 hour round trip from here along the crater rim to Uhuru Peak (5895m), passing close to the spectacular glaciers and ice cliffs that still occupy the summit area. The descent back down to Barafu campsite is surprisingly fast however it is extremely hard on already tired legs. After some light refreshment and an hour or two of rest in our tents, we continue our descent to our final campsite at the edge of Mweka Forest (3100 m). The constant of downhill walking should not be under estimated. [12-14 hours walking] Overnight on the mountain (in tents)

Kilimanjaro - Day 9:	TREKKING	(B,D)

After breakfast we will say our final farewell to our porters and distribute tips to them prior to departing our final campsite. This is a great opportunity for final group photos. A sustained descent through lovely forest with lush undergrowth takes us to the National Park gate at Mweka (1650m) [4-5 hours walking] When we finish the climb we need to complete some National Park formalities before boarding a vehicle for our transfer back to the accommodation in Arusha. [2 hours drive] There will be time for a well deserved shower and some rest before enjoying a celebration dinner. A presentation of Summit Certificates for the climb will occur at the dinner. A massage can be arranged for you weary body on return to the Lodge.
